

AUDIENCE REVIEWS OF REED COWAN

Reed Cowan's mantras come from a naturally gifted communicator. He convinced me that I can work through any situation - no matter how bad - and, more importantly, turn a loss, obstacle, failure, tragedy, injustice, or stumble into purpose and meaning so that in the end the thing that you faced actually made you a better you. In a world where we all believe we've reached our maximum capabilities and potential and are incapable of doing any more, all you need to do is talk to Reed to get your second wind.

Adam Sklar, ESQ. Adoption Advocate & Attorney

Reed has allowed me to be much aware of the shepherding care from the beauty that is around us and instilled in me a stronger faith with deeper meaning. He has helped me believe there is a purpose in the silence and a reason for everything. As a doctor, Reed's message of sharing memories and opening your heart, invites healing more than the "medicine" I can only try to provide.

Throughout my military service in Israel and my academic career in the US, I met a few people who shaped the view of my life. Special people, whom when you look them in the eyes you feel the energies and the power they project on you and on those who surround them. People who were gifted with a natural ability to lead people behind them, with charisma, with positive thinking and kindness that comes from their soul and wraps you among their wing and makes you want to have them with you in tough times. People who struggled through pain and were able to build themselves up again, and now they share this strength with others, to make a better world. Reed Cowan is one of these gifted people.

Reed Cowan will knock your socks off. This man stands in front of a crowd, raises both arms, and beams love, power and compassion straight from the heart. Reed knows how to teach others to channel pain in to purpose. In our school district, (the 6th largest in the United States) Reed partnered with our students to raise nearly $200,000.00 to build schools in Kenya. He paid out of his own pocket to send students to Kenya to build the schools they helped raise money for.

I feel massively fortunate that I attended the workshop led by Reed Cowan. Reed's gifts are truly our own. I've felt very lucky in my life to be exposed to the right teachers at the right times, and Reed has very quickly become as impactful as any teacher I have ever had. The principles Reed teaches work, but like anything, work best when guided by a brilliant teacher. Clearly, teaching is his calling. From my now-more-calmly-beating heart, THANK YOU!

His devotion for meditation and its healing power is a true gift to those of us that have crossed his path. Reed Cowan is a gift.*

Awesome, Amazing, Enlightening - these are only some of the words to describe Reed's keynote today. The energy he channels and captures you WILL feel. Get ready for a truly moving experience! I feel so lucky and fortunate to be in the presence of such a caring, gentle, and aware individual and like others also will also say in his often jam-packed classes and workshops, each person leaves truly changed. I believe, and have even casually mentioned to Reed that he's got the spirit of a Shaman. He exudes a Calling to help guide people to a more relaxing, healthy and calm life.
